Tom “Trashmouth” Baker

Vocalist and harmonica Tom “Trashmouth” Baker fronts his own band. It’s called Greasehouse, and it’s the real-deal. After being the voice of The Blues Notions for several years and after performing a couple of times at the International Blues Challenge, down in Memphis, Tom’s 2017 release is called “One Man’s Trash.” Greasehouse blends elements of blues, New Orleans funk, gospel and jazz. But it’s the blues that makes it talk. And, Tom’s sandpaper grit voice. A mainstay of the regional blues scene, Trashmouth has recorded on albums and shared the stage with just about anyone that would have him; Little Hatch and Myra Taylor included. Greasehouse features Jim Beisman at piano, in that two fisted style that everyone loves. On bass is the rock-solid Joe Fontenot. His credits are impressive, he’s done multiple live appearances in the area and he’s no stranger to the recording studio. Marc Caplan works the drum kit and always keeps it in the pocket. From Jimmy Witherspoon to Eric Burdon, this is it.

Since 2010 Alex Abramovitz and his swingin’ Kansas City Jazz Band have stayed true to their Kansas City jazz roots. Jenee Osterheldt of The Kansas City Star says their “Hangover Brunch” at the Phoenix downtown, “is a swingin’ good time,” and added, “I am no jazz aficionado, but the pop n’ swing, offered by Alex Abramovitz and his 4 bandmates swallowed up any bad mood.” This is their first concert at Holy-Field Winery and it’s our very first evening concert of the season. Let’s make them welcome! Alex and the gang perform classics from Count Basie, Fats Waller and Louis Armstrong. Alex and his Swingin’ band are committed to the preservation and proliferation of traditional jazz music. It’s a toe tappin’ swingfest sure to steal your weekday blues.

A Holy-Field favorite for several years now, Guitarist Brandon Hutspeth and Levee Town are again back in the area. This rockin’ contemporary blues act has been traveling the US and Canada non-stop for the past 14 years. The songwriting, arrangements and the execution of this happenin’ band are astounding.
 With 6 Levee Town albums to choose from, the fast swing and Texas shuffles will be sure to fill the dance floor. Old popular favorites and freshly minted material define Levee Town, back at Holy-Field for a swinging evening of contemporary blues.

What began in 2008 as a co-op band of three long-time friends has evolved into a potent high-energy musical powerhouse. Regulars at The Phoenix on Friday nights, The MGDs have added some very competent horn players to the mix. They present a passionate blend of Kansas City funk n’ blues. Now seven pieces, The MGDs showcase their seductive mix of piano and brass complemented by their groovin’ rhythm section at Holy-Field. Soulful stylings, served up in an electrifying experience that adds a unique new flavor to that iconic Kansas City sound. It’s The MGDs second time here at Holy-Field. Please, come welcome them back. Influences include a variety of classic and modern sounds from New Orleans, Memphis and other mid-states river towns, such as our own hometown Kansas City.

Billy Ebeling & the Late For Dinner Band

In the early 1990s in an area known as Queen Street in Auckland, New Zealand, there were a few buskers, and all of them were uniformly awful. So, a busker who could stop people and get them to listen to their music, was a rarity.
 American singer-songwriter Billy Ebeling, with the slight appearance and fright of hair like a young Bob Dylan, could sing and play—and best of all—keep a patter going with passers by. Billy Ebeling had their full attention.
 A full-time professional since the early 80’s and now living in Lawrence, Kansas, Billy Ebeling has traveled the globe spreading his unique style of home-grow music to the masses.
 Ebeling has toured Europe, sang in Hong Kong, performed in Canada, Mexico, Central America and the island of Fiji. He spent twelve years playing in New Zealand and Australia with his own band and The Ebeling Brothers. A prolific songwriter and multi-instrumentalist Billy Ebeling has recorded 17 albums to date. Welcome him back to Holy-Field for the 17th time during our 17th concert season.

Allied Saints

This is the fourth fantastic year for the Saints at Holy-Field. We hope we’ll have some fireworks off the stage, and we assure you there will be fireworks on it! When you stop by the Allied Saints website, it is all about the gigs. This band loves to be on stage and lives to play live music. Don’t take my word for it, listen to what vocalist Missi Lehr says about her wonderful band... “Martin Zander’s guitar licks are, in my opinion, comparable to any of the great guitar players of all time. The scary thing is, he keeps getting better. Hold on to your seats, he’ll make your body rock across the dance floor, and then make your knees weak and your heart tremble. I know he does mine. When I was about three years old I sang at our church. It was then that I realized that I wanted to sing. I’ve never stopped feeling that way about being in front of people.” This is a live music love affair.

Rougher All Stars

Putting a little Soca dance music into the mix, Rougher All Stars evolved from the internationally celebrated ska, rock steady and Grammy nominated reggae band, “Blue Riddim.” The first American reggae band to play at the Jamaican Reggae Sunsplash, “Blue Riddim” was that year unanimously acclaimed best performers. Their subsequent album, Alive In Jamaica, was nominated for a Grammy in 1986 and the hit single “Nancy Reagan,” topped the international music charts.
 The Blue Riddim Band remains the only American reggae band to be nominated by the Grammys for Best Reggae Album of the Year. Their primary influences, from the foundations of Coxson Dodd’s Studio One label and Duke Reid’s Treasure Isle label, became the foundation for the Rougher All Stars, which features some Blue Riddim alumni, along with an all-star modern day lineup of Kansas City-Lawrence area musicians. Steamboat Bandits

The Steamboat Bandits are the real deal. Accomplished musicians all, they come from Parkville, Missouri and play a type of bluegrass music that was begun in the 1970s by bands such as The New Grass Revival. A high energy progressive string band, the fellas met at a popular music festival in 2013. While involved in an infectious campground jam session, the band was born and they haven’t looked back—only forward.
 This is the art of presenting pop songs and classic melodies done in the Appalachian style, a fusion of popular themes built on a strong rhythmic foundation. 2016 was the first year for the Bandits at Holy-Field Winery. Find them on Facebook and at Holy-Field Winery. Join us, won’t you, in welcoming the Steamboat Bandits back to our summertime series for their third year.

Fourth generation musicians, performers and real-life brothers—David and Jimmy Nace—are all about the music. They have become a mainstay at Holy-Field and we’re proud to welcome them back again.

This veteran group’s musicianship and engaging stage presence has earned them appreciative audiences at concert halls, nightclubs and festivals throughout the Midwest and Southeastern United States. The perform regularly at Margaritaville Café in Key West, Florida. And, the many stops in between.
 The brothers have spent many a week on the road, for the past 36 years. Their professionalism, stability and ability to entertain a varied audience has helped them persevere throughout their extensive musical career and the audiences’ ever changing musical tastes. They have recorded and released 9 albums to date, and made a documentary film. They’ve earned the respect of promoters, club owners, producers and peers for their dedication to their craft, easy going confidence and their refreshing lack of pretense.

The Crumpletons

A Lawrence, Kansas throwback to the bygone era of the freaky 1960s, The Crumpletons make you want to get your paisley and tie-dye on. Classic ‘60s British Invasion tunes, California Country Joe, and Acid Washed perfection awaits you when you glide into the final concert of the Holy-Field Summertime Music Series.
 John Lomas is a sensational lead guitarist and the vocals are sublime. Even if you don’t dance, you will get caught up in the sounds, and who knows... this could be the night! The Crumpletons will be doing what they do best – getting you movin’, groovin’ and perhaps singin’ along.
 Dance the night away to this popular local band, from a town chock full of great local bands—all the way back to Arlie Simmonds wonderful 1929 dance band, oh but that’s another story. Come early, last year the parking lot was full for the entire evening and folks walked as much as a half a mile to hear The Fabulous Crumpletons. Janette Michaels- flute & vocals .....
